More selective collection development has increased desirable item availability. ▪ Trustees were appreciative of the supplemental graphs and trend information.

The auditors had full access to all MCL staff and information needed for the audit. ○ Auditors helped prepare Mesa County Libraries Foundation financial statements independent of the district, with oversight by Cole. The only material adjustments made for 2016 were to move MCLF statements from a cash basis to an accrual basis. • Evaluation of Expenditures: The district spent conservatively with no significant increases in hiring or improvements in 2016. The net cash position at the close of 2016 was strong. There was a decrease in expenditures of $1,029,456 from 2015 attributed to capital outlay related to construction of the 970West Studio in 2015. • DiDario affirmed that the MCL Board of Trustees Audit Committee met to preview the audit results with Hemann on June 22, 2017, and the committee had no concerns.

MCL's diligent posting of records on the MCPLD website should satisfy most open records requests.
12	Information/ Discussion	SB 152 Exemption Discussion / Ballot Process <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Sanchez reminded board members of the informational email sent on June 19 regarding MCL seeking a potential SB 152 exemption in order to proceed with the downtown Wi-Fi project. The question arose during a meeting with Grand Junction's Downtown Development Authority (DDA), which would collaborate with MCL on the project. • After consulting legal counsel, the Colorado State Library, and the county clerk, MCL staff concluded that the cost and time involved in pursuing this ballot measure would be not be worthwhile. Cost estimates could run as high as $55,000, not including staff time. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ As an independent governmental entity, MCL is bound by SB 152, which prohibits most uses of municipal or county funds for infrastructure to improve local broadband service without first going to a vote. An exception is not possible for MCL. ○ Wade is confident that the DDA, which is exempted from SB 152, will pursue the downtown Wi-Fi project with or without the library district. • Following discussion, trustees agreed with the staff recommendation against pursuing a ballot measure for an SB 152 exemption to participate in the downtown Wi-Fi project.
